

Point Group Homework

October 4th – 5th 2025

Guest - Tim Detrick MorterStone

Warm-up

If you suddenly inherited $1 million today, what's the very first thing you would do with it?

What's something you once thought was valuable (toy, gadget, car, etc.) that now feels silly looking back?

Know It

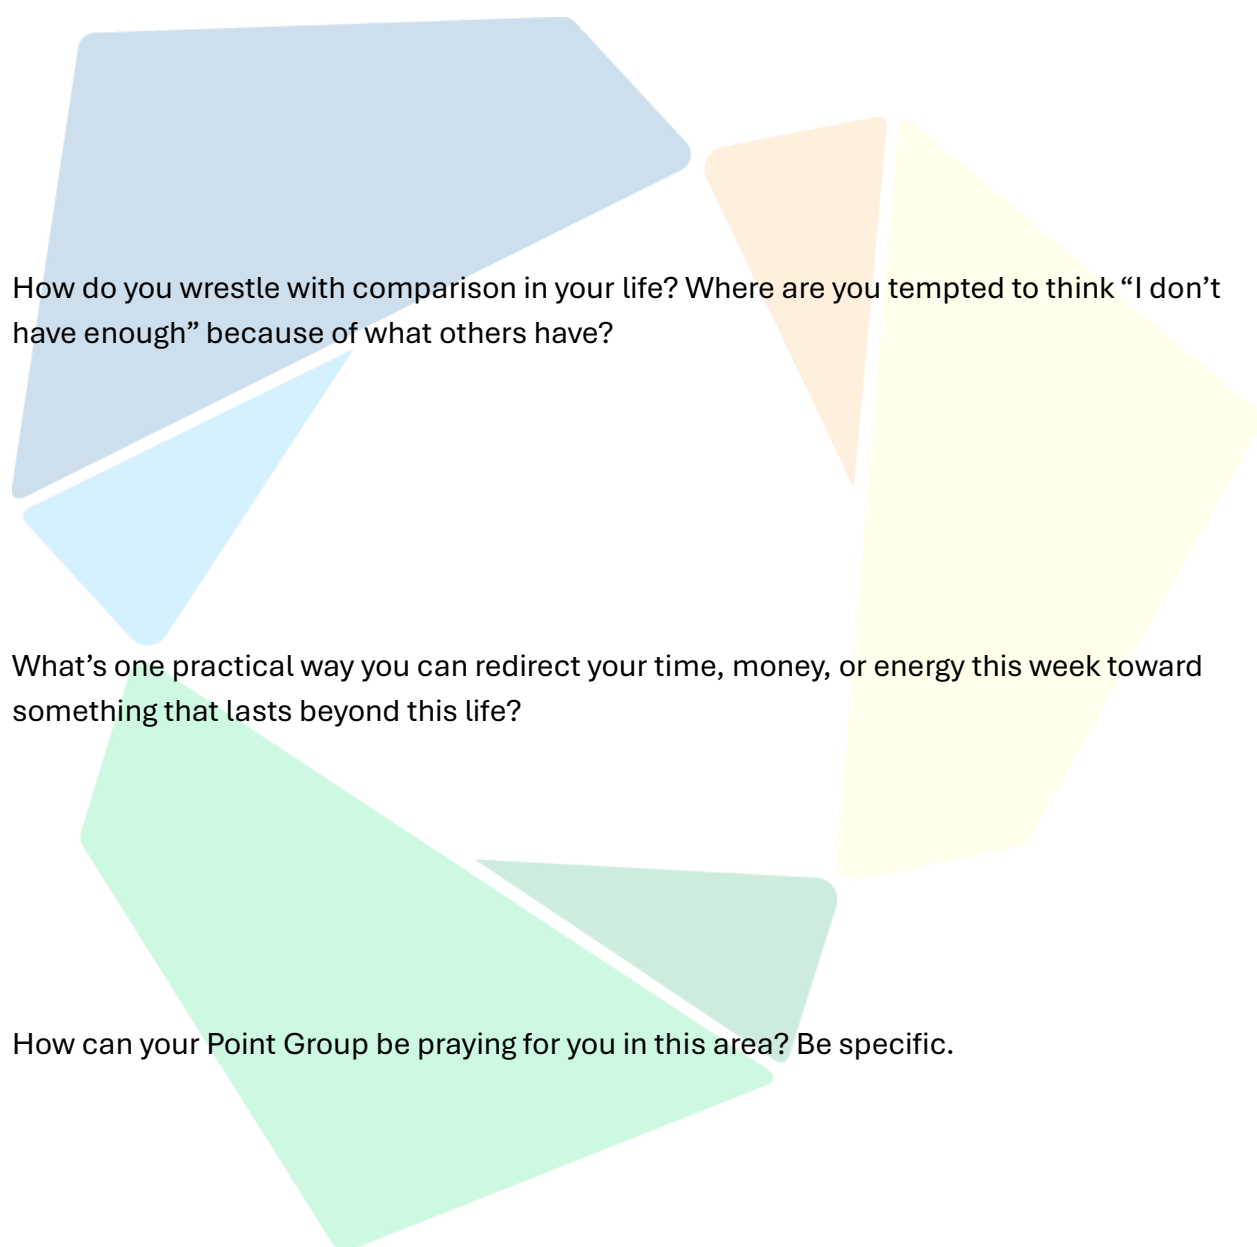

Read Psalm 49:10–12. What truth about life and death does this passage remind us of, and why do you think the psalmist emphasizes it?

Read Psalm 49:16–20. What happens to wealth and status when someone dies? How does the psalmist contrast that with wisdom?

Compare Psalm 49:5 and Isaiah 32:8. What different kinds of security are described here—false security versus true security?

Live It

In your daily decisions, do you see yourself more as the owner of your resources or as a steward managing God's resources? How might shifting that perspective change your choices?

How do you wrestle with comparison in your life? Where are you tempted to think "I don't have enough" because of what others have?

What's one practical way you can redirect your time, money, or energy this week toward something that lasts beyond this life?

How can your Point Group be praying for you in this area? Be specific.
